Descripción de la propiedad

Now available for sale in Santa Fe is this modern mountain home located inside Namuiki, the first and only residential development of its kind in the area. This community is being built with proper roads, real infrastructure, on-site management, and wellness-oriented amenities like a spa, hiking trails, saunas, a cold plunge, a yoga room, and even a paddle court. It's set up to provide a high-quality living experience in a part of Panama that still feels natural, quiet, and spacious. The home sits approximately on a 6397m² lot (exact size coming soon) with a gentle, consistent slope. Nearly all of the land is usable, giving you room for planting, gardening, and even building additional structures above the existing home. The flattened area where the house sits was intentionally chosen to capture west-facing views that deliver beautiful sunsets over the surrounding mountains. Inside, the house has a warm yet minimal aesthetic. Microcement walls, local exotic hardwoods, and carefully crafted finishes define the interiors. The ceilings are tall, the natural light is abundant, and the overall design balances modern comfort with a grounded, mountain feel. The home was recently completed and has not been lived in, and the furniture was just purchased, so everything feels fresh and new. The open-concept kitchen and living area creates a seamless flow toward the outdoors. The kitchen includes custom hardwood cabinetry, an oversized island wrapped in decorative tile, open shelving, and large windows that frame the mountain views.
