Descripción de la propiedad

For coffee connoisseurs, possessing a farm that produces award-winning beans on a regular basis is something extraordinary. This spectacular 409,774 m² (40.97 hectares) estate in Boquete, Panama is amongst the finest coffee estates for sale today. At between 1,600 and 2,000 meters above sea level, the farm benefits from the best conditions arising from Boquete's unique terroir—the fertile volcanic soil, natural fresh waters, and best conditions for sunlight and mist—that make it possible to cultivate some of the planet's most desired coffee varieties. Geisha, Pacamara, and Typica are some varieties planted here on which they farm and hand-pick carefully in order to generate such an extraordinary cup profile. With all prior proof of excellence, this estate has attained international recognition as one amongst the Top 10 Coffees in the world, famous for distinct flavor profiles and quality. Their beans are very popular amongst specialty roasters and collectors, hence achieving consistent demand despite competitive international markets. Other than the global acknowledgement it provides, it is also a shrewd business investment that this coffee farm offers. With exporting platforms already in place, award-winning reputation, and expansion opportunity, it not only offers land, but also provides a globally recognized brand. If your vision is to uphold its quality standard, expand production, or develop a boutique coffee experience, this land is your best place to start. This is more than a coffee farm; it is living heritage from Boquete's world-famous coffee culture, an opportunity to own a piece of Panama's finest agricultural heritage.
