Descripción de la propiedad

This farm, located in La Raya de Calobre, Veraguas, is ideal for agricultural development, especially for sugarcane cultivation and other crops. The property features gently rolling terrain that facilitates mechanized farming and optimizes productivity. Additionally, a stream runs along its rear boundary, providing a significant advantage for water access and supporting agricultural activities. This is an excellent opportunity for investors or producers seeking a functional farm with strong production potential in a region with a long agricultural tradition.
