Descripción de la propiedad

This unique home is set in a complete jungle setting, where it feels as if you are suspended in the trees. Surrounded by mature tropical growth and bordering a natural quebrada, the property offers an immersive connection with nature while maintaining modern comforts. The home is thoughtfully designed with clean lines, stone accents, and wide glass openings that invite in natural light and green views from every corner. The elevated position allows breezes to flow through the living spaces, creating a cool and refreshing environment year-round. Inside, the kitchen is stylish and practical, featuring stone wall details, large windows, and a natural wood island that serves as a central gathering spot. The two bedrooms are designed for comfort, each framed by large windows that place you right in the heart of the surrounding forest. The bathrooms echo the natural theme with stone finishes and a modern layout. Outdoor living is central to this home, with decks and balconies that extend into the treetops. A hammock corner makes for the perfect place to relax, while the wraparound terrace brings you closer to the sounds of birds and rustling leaves. Down below, the home includes a generous garage space that doubles as a flexible area. It could easily be converted into an additional bedroom studio, a rental unit, or left open as a gym, workshop, or storage area. The option to adapt this space makes the property versatile for a variety of lifestyles. The property spans over 4,300 m² and is fully serviced with a private well, fiber optic internet, and electricity.
