Dolega

Descripción de la propiedad

This property is located in Palma Real, Rovira, within the District of Dolega, Chiriquí, in a quiet rural setting with convenient access to nearby towns. The surrounding landscape reflects the character of the region, with open green areas, farmland, and a calm atmosphere complemented by pleasant mountain views. The land is flat and well maintained, making it easy to visualize future use. Its layout supports a range of possibilities, including a private residence, a countryside retreat, or a small-scale rural project. At the back of the property, there is an existing built storage structure that adds immediate functionality. This depósito can be used to store equipment, tools, or construction materials, and later adapted as a workshop or support building, adding practical value from day one. The property features a variety of fruit trees distributed across the lot. Electricity and water are available on the property, and cable and internet services are accessible in the area, making it straightforward to establish utilities. Palma Real, Rovira is part of the District of Dolega, an area known for fertile land, open landscapes, and steady residential growth. The region offers a balance between rural surroundings and everyday convenience, with access to services and quick access to David while maintaining a quieter, more spacious environment.
