Descripción de la propiedad

Living in La Alameda means enjoying a well-established residential area with high added value, where family life and urban comfort meet in one place. Surrounded by nature, wide streets, and elegant residences. A serene setting that invites you to walk, exercise, or simply relax. This residence is spread over two floors. The ground floor consists of a foyer, living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, study, guest bathroom, service bedroom and bathroom, laundry room, a large terrace with a bar, and four parking spaces and storage. The upper floor features three bedrooms, each with its own full bathroom, a den, and a balcony where you can enjoy nature. Outside, at the rear of the residence, you will find an annex with a bedroom and full bathroom, and a storage room. There is also a pump room for controlled watering of your plants. The residence features various finishes, including marble and granite floors, wood structures and a tongue-and-groove ceiling, and a gypsum ceiling in the family room. This exclusive neighborhood offers the perfect combination of exclusivity, tranquility, and a strategic location in Panama City.
