Descripción de la propiedad

Located across the valley from the desirable community Altos de Maria, this area is known for its security, lush green landscaping, fresh highland climate, and of course the Panama's natural monument- Cerro Picacho. On the 36 Hectares of grass land and jungle which slope down to the Rio Maria, there are a multitude of naturally flat locations that suggest perfect building sites. Seemingly far from the rest of the world, this location is close to an hour from Panama City. Within the property's borders are hiking trails to exotic limestone cliffs, 5 natural springs, the Rio Maria River and one of her waterfalls pool along one border of the property. An exciting feature of this property is that it faces the Cerro Picacho and boasts unobstructed views from every possible building site. It's south west orientation is optimal for sunsets cast over the exquisite natural beauty of the mountain. At the highest point of the property, closest to the road access, is a 1 bedroom cabin currently being completed, with floor to ceiling windows, live edge counter tops and custom table. The cabin is already equipped with solar and a septic system.
